Prisoner tried to kill inmate who slashed Soham killer's throat

A PRISONER has admitted the attempted murder of an inmate who was jailed for slashing the throat of Soham killer Ian Huntley.

Prosecutors say Kevin McCarthy, 49, seriously assaulted 41-year-old Damien Fowkes at HMP Whitemoor in March, Cambridgeshire, leaving him with life-threatening injuries to his neck.

McCarthy pleaded guilty to attempted murder in a videolink hearing at Cambridge Crown Court on Tuesday. He will be sentenced today.

Fowkes is serving a life sentence with a minimum term of 20 years for the attempted murder of Huntley and the manslaughter of paedophile and child-killer Colin Hatch.

Fowkes attacked Huntley (above) in the healthcare unit at Frankland Prison, Durham, in 2010, leaving him with a gaping wound.

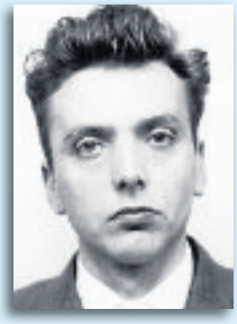
Teen seized after injured man dies

A 17-YEAR-OLD has been arrested on suspicion of murdering a man who died in hospital after being found injured in a city centre street.

Police said the victim was found after officers were called to St Matthews Way in Leicester at about 3.10pm on Monday.

Detectives have launched a murder investigation and are working to establish if the man sustained his injuries during an incident at the scene or elsewhere.

Even Brady didn't know where Keith is



IAN Brady's lawyer has said if the serial killer had information on the burial site of 12-year-old Moors Murder victim Keith Bennett it would have been revealed in the 1980s.

Robin Makin spoke to Brady, 79, at Ashworth High Security Hospital in Merseyside about his legal affairs and funeral arrangements less than two hours before he died at 6.03pm on Monday.

The Liverpool-based solicitor said he did not believe Brady had any information which could lead to the remains of the only one of Brady and Myra Hindley's five young victims not to have been traced. He said: "I think that if he had been able to assist in its location, it would have happened in the 1980s."

Mr Makin, the executor of Brady's will, said he was called see the murderer shortly before his death.

He said: "It was obvious that the end was fairly close. He was in the last hours of his life, so he was pretty weak, but we were able to discuss a few things and sort out what he wanted to be done."

Mr Makin represented Brady for more than 25 years. He added: "Clients have their challenges and some are easier to deal with than others.

"I would sort of say at the end I had a rapport with him and knew what he wanted."

Body

Norie Miles, a close friend of Keith Bennett's mother, Winnie Johnson, said Keith's brother Alan would continue to search for his body.

She said: "Alan is still searching for Keith and has areas of interest. He will never give up and none of us will ever give up supporting him."

Martin Bottomley, head of Greater Manchester Police's Cold Case Review Unit, said the case remained open and officers would act on "credible and actionable" information which would help them find the body of Keith.

He said: "Whilst we are not actively searching Saddleworth Moors, Greater Manchester Police will never close this case. Brady's death does not change that."

TEEN SCHOOLGIRL'S BODY ON BACK SEAT OF CRASH CAR

TRIBUTES: Megan was described as beautiful, talented and loving

By COLIN HURST
news@sundaysport.co.uk

A MURDER inquiry has been launched after a "beautiful, talented and loving" teenage schoolgirl was found dead on the back seat of a car following a crash.

Megan Bannister, 16, was discovered on the back seat of a black Vauxhall Astra after the crash at about 11.45am on Sunday in Enderby, Leicestershire.

Police said the death is not believed to have been the result of the collision between the car and a motorbike, and two men have been arrested on suspicion of murder.

In a statement, the family of the teenager, who was from Leicester, said: "Megan was our beautiful, talented, loving daughter and sister.

"Our hearts have been utterly broken by her death.

"The thought of life without Megan is impossible to imagine. We cannot adequately express in words the sense of numbness and overwhelming grief we feel at her loss.

"She was bright, clever, and a responsible person who loved her family and her many friends.

"She had a strong self-will and had set her heart on training to become a midwife."

The family added: "Knowing how confident and determined she was, we have no doubt she would have realised that dream.

"As a family, we are doing our best to support one another at this harrowing time and would respectfully ask that we are left alone to grieve in private without intrusion."

The two arrested men, aged 27 and 28, are in custody being quizzed by detectives.

A police spokesman said: "An initial post-mortem examination was inconclusive and further tests are being conducted to find out exactly how Megan died.

"However, her death is not believed to have been the result of a road traffic collision."

Devastated

Two bunches of flowers with a sympathy card and a note attached have been placed at the scene of the collision, on a straight two-lane stretch of the B582 around a mile outside Enderby.

The note attached to one of the floral tributes read: "Megan, I'm so sorry we couldn't save you, my heart is broken but you're in a safe place now. RIP Little Angel xxxx."

Wigston College, where Megan was due to take a GCSE exam on Tuesday, said the school community had been devastated by the news of her death.

The school said in a statement: "Megan was funny, friendly and good. She was working so hard for her GCSEs.

"Her dream was to be a midwife, she would have been brilliant at it.

"She was popular and had a wide range of friends. She liked people and they liked her and this is how we will remember her.

"Our thoughts are very much with her family at this impossibly difficult time."

The statement added: "We are working with the police to do everything we can to help them – but also to help, support and comfort her friends and the people that knew her at our college."

Corbyn U-turn over vow to lift benefits freeze

JEREMY Corbyn has rowed back from his own suggestions that Labour would lift the benefits freeze.

The Labour leader said, while answering audience questions following the party's manifesto launch, that "clearly" Labour would not freeze benefits.

But his assertion sparked questions over why the policy was not in the manifesto and associated costings, given Labour's insistence that all its pledges are fully funded with details set out in the documents.

Asked if lifting the benefits freeze was costed in the manifesto, Mr Corbyn (above) said: "We have not made a commitment on that.

"The commitment I make is that I do understand the perverse effects of the cap and we will be dealing with that in the context of more affordable secure housing and high wages through the living wage."

Syria denies mass killings at prison

THE Syrian government has "categorically" denied US accusations of mass killings at a prison near Damascus, including executing political opponents and burning the victims in a crematorium at the site.

The allegations are "a new Hollywood plot" to justify US intervention in Syria, a statement from the Foreign Ministry said.

It described the US State Department accusations as "lies" and "fabrications", noting what it called a US track record of making up false claims as a pretext for military aggression.

The State Department said on Monday that it believes around 50 detainees are being hanged each day at the Saydnaya military prison.

She said: "I feel, as if computers haven't stolen all our jobs, now they're gonna steal our sex lives. What's next for us?

"Each to their own, but without sounding rude, I like to have actual sex and emotion.

"I don't want to be with a robot of any kind. They can't love you. Who's gonna cuddle you afterwards?

"But if I brought Harmony home, Joe would never ask me, he'd go straight to Harmony."

RADIO DJ Jo Whiley says she regularly does the gardening in her BRA.

The 51-year-old BBC Radio 2 presenter (above) revealed she was inspired by her mum to wear just shorts and a bra while tending to her bushes.

She claims weeding in her underwear allows her to feel the sunshine and says the lack of clothing leaves her 'unfettered'.

Jo said: "My mum always used to garden in a bra, and now I can really understand why.

"It's so good to feel unfettered and just work in the sunshine.

"I don't have a particular gardening bra. My mum has always had a great bosom so when she was gardening in her bra, it was impressive.

Liam: I couldn't Bear baby's name!

DOTING DAD: Liam cradling his baby son and (far right) with Cheryl

By KATE ARCHER
news@sundaysport.co.uk

LIAM Payne has said he had an "internal struggle" over Cheryl's choice of the name 'Bear' for their baby son.

The One Direction star and singer Cheryl welcomed their first child in March, but kept the little boy's name a secret until recently.

In an interview with Virgin Radio's Total Access show, Payne, 23, admitted he wasn't sure about the unusual choice to begin with, but was talked round by Cheryl, 33.

Battle

He told presenter Elliot Holman: "It was an internal battle.

"I wanted a more traditional name and she wanted a name that was more unusual.

"The reason she chose Bear was because Bear is a name that when you leave a room, you won't forget – and I like that."

Payne continued: "You know what? Now he is Bear. When I look at him, he's just Bear.

"At first I wasn't really having it. I was like, 'I'm not really sure, I don't really understand'.

"Now I look at him and he's Bear. You become your name as you get older, anyway."

Liam also made reference to his son's name earlier this month when adventurer Bear Grylls tweeted the new parents to congratulate them on their choice of name.

He wrote back: "Thanks, man, hope he grows with an ounce of your courage! You're a boss."

Payne is currently promoting his debut solo track Strip That Down, set for release on May 19.

Stomzy's £9k helps student get to Harvard

GRIME star Stormzy has made a £9,000 donation to a student's crowdfund campaign so she can study at Harvard University.

Fiona Asiedu, who attends university at Oxford, was aiming to raise £12,000 to cover the cost of tuition and other expenses.

On the Crowdfunder page she wrote that she was "particularly interested in psychological development of those from disadvantaged backgrounds, specifically ethnic minorities and those from working class backgrounds".

The cost of her nine months at Harvard came to £59,000, but Asiedu received an external scholarship and financial aid from the department she will study in, which left her still needing to raise the remaining £12,000 in four weeks.

But it took her less than 24 hours to meet her target, after Stormzy retweeted an appeal to him to share the campaign before donating himself.

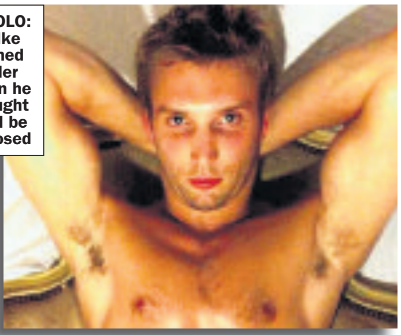
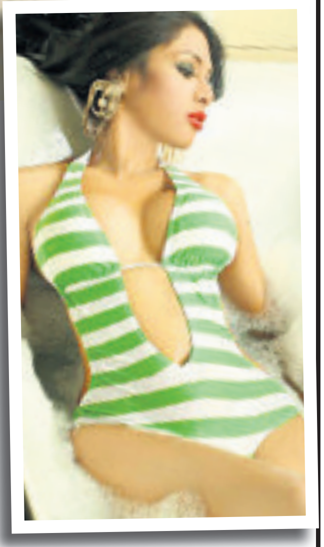
MALE ESCORT 'SLAUGHTERED TRANNY LOVER, CUT HER UP...THEN COOKED HER'

Cops found her feet simmering in the pan



GIGOLO: Volke turned killer when he thought he'd be exposed



By COLIN HURST
colin@sundaysport.co.uk

A CHEF murdered his tranny wife and then chopped up and cooked her body parts – because he was terrified she would expose his secret life as a gigolo.

Marcus Volke is believed to have killed Mayang Prasetyo, 27, in their flat in October 2014 after a row about his life as a male escort.

Volke, also 27, then chopped her into bits which he boiled on his stove to get rid of the evidence.

An inquest into her death heard their relationship was volatile, and in one fight Ms Prasetyo threatened to expose him as a sex worker to his family if he left her.

Volke then lost the plot and beat his wife to death.

The pair had married so that pre-op trans-sexual Ms Prasetyo could get an Australian visa, and in return she helped pay off his credit card debt with her escort earnings. They lived together and had a sexual relationship.

Wipes

After the killing Volke drove to Woolworths in Brisbane where he bought gloves, bleach, a scrubbing brush, bin bags, wipes, and a tub.

He got then a taxi to the Royal Brisbane Hospital to have a cut on his hand treated which he told the driver was from cutting onions.

However, he told hospital staff the injury was from him taking a knife out of his girlfriend's hands during a fight.

On October 4 he bought a cleaver from Big W, which he used to dismember Ms Prasetyo's body and stuff her parts in the bin bags.

Later that day while trying to cook her body on the electric hob the pot boiled over and short-circuited his apartment's power.

He casually called electrician Brad Coyne for help getting the power back on to complete his plot.

Mr Coyne arrived at the flat and was confronted by a putrid smell, which the killer tried to explain away as pig's broth.

He was led around the home, where he saw garbage bags, bottles of chemicals and rubber gloves.

Coyne told the inquest: "We went into the bathroom which had laundry in it and there was a cupboard that had the washing machine in it – which I didn't know at the time had bits of his wife's body in it, like her head and arms."

He got the power back on and tested the stove – not knowing Ms Prasetyo's feet were sitting half-cooked in the huge pot.

Still feeling something was off, he talked to the building manager on the way out – who immediately called police for a welfare check.

Constables Liam McWhinney Bryan Reid arrived at the flat and initially found Volke cooperative and were not suspicious.

But when they asked if they could search the apartment, Volke told them he needed to secure his dogs, locked the door and fled.

Blood

Constable McWhinney told the inquest the pair gave chase but their quarry eluded them and they returned to the unit to search it.

He said: "Originally I thought it was some sort of Halloween prank.

"There was a pool of blood at the base of the fridge."

They then found some of Ms Prasetyo's remains in a bin bag left in the couple's washing machine.

Meanwhile, police and a dog squad found Volke in an industrial bin nearby a short time later.

The court heard at least one of the officers drew his firearm, and Volke took his own life by slashing his neck and wrists.

The crime scene took four days to clean, including the "squelching" carpet, along with a vomit-inducing smell.

The inquest cleared cops of any wrongdoing.

Corden sex chat gets Harry blushing!

HARRY Styles faced gags about him having sex with his ex Kendall Jenner when he appeared on a live TV show yesterday.

The former One Direction heart-throb was starting a week-long stint on James Corden's US chat show to promote his new solo album over there.

But Corden insisted that, in return, Harry had to agree to being fair game for anything thrown at him.

The 23-year-old released his debut solo album last week and the US platform for his music on The Late Late Show comes with the condition that he's up for any sketches, challenges or jokes that Corden, 38, throws his way.

Harry proved he was up to the task on Monday night by opening the show with a sketch in which he arrived at the TV studios for filming and was confronted by a strict female security guard who refused to believe he was a pop superstar.

She said: "You're Harry Styles? And I'm Katy Perry. Where are the rest of One Direction then?"

Harry then poked fun at his heart-throb image by gazing into the guard's eyes until she began giggling and blushing, waving him through the door – although Corden trying the same tactic later in the sketch had the opposite effect.

During the show, Harry also took a reference to ex-girlfriend Kendall Jenner in good spirits when fellow guest Aaron Taylor-Johnson began talking about the chickens he keeps at home.

Taylor-Johnson revealed that the birds were all named after members of Jenner's reality TV family the Kardashians, and were called the Kardaschickens, and he began to list their names.

When he got to Kendall, Harry raised his eyebrows while taking a big swig from his mug to fend off further questions.

Taylor-Johnson said the chickens "lay every day", and Corden asked: "Do they lay every day, Harry?"

Fans loved Harry's first appearance of the week and one tweeted: "What if during Harry's Carpool Karaoke James picks up the One Direction boys along the way and they all just sing to Harry's album."

DEATH SWEEP!

GONER: Brady and (below) Peter Sutcliffe

EVIL serial killer Ian Brady kicked the bucket at the age of 79 this week after a battle with a terminal illness.

The convicted murderer passed away at the secure Ashworth Hospital, in Merseyside, on Monday, where he was serving the remainder of his life sentence.

By JESS GALLEY
jess@sundaysport.co.uk

Ian, along with his lover Myra Hindley, took the lives of five children in the 1960s and buried their bodies up on Saddleworth Moor, Gtr Manchester.

Twisted Brady took the secret of where he buried the body of schoolboy Keith Bennett with him to the grave.

As news spread of his demise, we searched for a fitting replacement to take Brady's place on the Sport's world-famous Celebrity Death Sweep list.

So we've given the empty spot to Peter Sutcliffe, aka the Yorkshire Ripper.

Sutcliffe has been banged up since 1981 when he was handed 20 concurrent life sentences for the murders of 13 women over a five-year period.

At the ripe old age of 70, it might not be long before Sutcliffe follows in Brady's footsteps.

But there are still some older names on our list that could easily check out before the Ripper does.

Will it be Hollywood legend Kirk Douglas, who is the joint-eldest star on our death sweep at the age of 100, who we bid farewell to next?

Or could the nation be rocked by a Royal death in the near future as recently retired Prince Philip, 95, and The Queen, 91, both feature on the list – although they both seem to be fighting fit.

HOW TO DO IT...

CUT out all the names on the left, then fold them up and put them in a hat, bag or box.

Then charge everyone £1 (or more) to draw a name – make sure you write the ticket owner's name next to the celebrity in the form below. Put the money and the list somewhere safe and wait for fate to take its course while keeping an eye on the news.

Just don't forget where you put the kitty!

Scotty revealed he was 'in love' with his new missus earlier this month and slammed former girlfriend Francesca Toole, claiming she was too rowdy and tried to act like him.

THE biggest turn-off for women is SMOKING, new research has revealed

A survey found that more than a quarter of women (26 per cent) would refuse to hop into bed with a fella if he was a smoker.

Other off-putting habits include cancelling plans (19 per cent), gambling (14 per cent) and boozing (10 per cent).

And it wasn't just women who revealed the habits they like least in the poll carried out by Vapourlites.com – men also stated the things they find most off-putting, with girls spending too much time on their phones topping the list.

Psychologist Susan Whitbourne said: "If the relationship is only barely holding together, these tiny infractions could snowball into much larger issues."

DUCT TAPE BODY CRAZE HITS THE UK

A SEXY new trend is sweeping British clubs as stunning girls are going out wearing nothing but DUCT TAPE.

The X-rated trend leaves little to the imagination as British beauties cover their fannies and nipples with the hard-wearing sticky tape.

Pieces of the tape are cut by hand and then placed in intricate designs around intimate areas, to maximise the wearer's sex appeal.

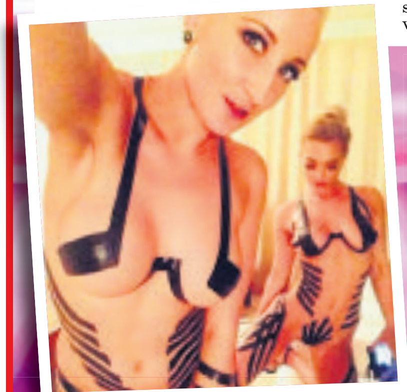
By BECCA STUBBS becca@sundaysport.co.uk

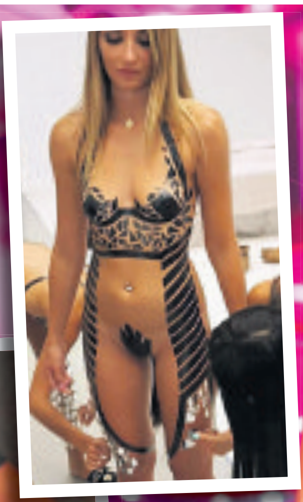
A trio of topless beauties donned their duct tape 'outfits' and were daringly close to unveiling their impressive boobs and mimsies.

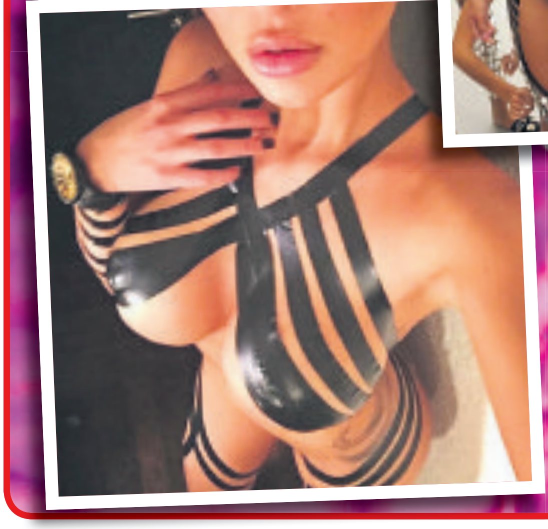
It was made famous by the Black Tape Project, which 'taped up' models to attend nightclub events in the steamiest of outfits.

They toured the US and Europe but now our own Brit babes are taking the trend to nightclubs across the country.

If you thought the sideboob trend was sexy, these risqué duct tape ensembles will send your temperature soaring!







Nutjob Kim ordered NHS cyber attack

NORTH Korea leader Kim Jong-Un's geeks were behind Friday's global cyber attack, security experts believe.

More than 300,000 computers in 150 countries have been infected with the WannaCry "ransomware" virus since the attack, crippling organisations from government agencies and global companies.

The NHS was also badly affected, with 47 trusts in England and 13 Scottish health boards compromised when the virus targeted computers with outdated security.

Now they believe North Korean leader Kim Jung-Un (above) ordered the attack.

Cyber experts are studying similarities between the computer code used in the WannaCry attack with malware distributed by Lazarus, a hacking group behind attacks on Sony Pictures in 2014 that was blamed on North Korea.

Security boffin David Emm said there was a "commonality of code" between the WannaCry and Lazarus viruses.

Chopper search for missing yacht crew

A SEARCH including lifeboats and a helicopter was launched after a small yacht was found run aground with no sign of its two-man crew.

The boat, called Don't Panic, left Scarborough on Monday evening and was spotted run aground off the North Yorkshire resort's West Pier early yesterday morning, the Maritime and Coastguard Agency said.

An extensive sea and coast search began after attempts to contact the boat's owner failed.

A UK Coastguard said: "Our primary concern is to find this crew."

BIANCA GASCOIGNE EXCLUSIVE

My high heels make me so horny in the bedroom...

KISS BUT NO BONK: Bianca and Jamie

By JESS GALLEY jess@sundaysport.co.uk

CELEBRITY Big Brother* scorcher Bianca Gascoigne keeps her high heels on when she's BONKING.

The glamour babe said slipping her feet into a pair of killer stilettos makes her feel even SEXIER – especially when she's getting down to business in the bedroom.

Gazza's daughter, who got steamy with footballer Jamie O'Hara on the most recent series of CBB, confessed she's been known to keep them on, even when she's stripped out of everything else.

The 30-year-old said: "I'm always in high heels. I can't live without them!

"Putting on a pair of killer heels makes you feel sexier. I have been known to keep a pair on in the bedroom, if you know what I mean!

"Let's just say I wear them everywhere!"

Fondling

Bianca finished in sixth place on the Channel 5 reality show earlier this year and got close to Danielle Lloyd's ex-hubby Jamie, 30.

Despite disappearing into the toilets and fondling each other under the covers, the pair have insisted they didn't shag in the house.

The busty blonde, who runs Gaslight Club, also confessed she'd consider going under the knife again.

One thing she is happy with are her whopping 34DD norks – after having them boosted twice.

She said: "I'd never say no to anything. I'd have everything done if I could, especially on my bum.

"I've had Botox and lip fillers, too. After turning 30, I feel like I need to get rid of my lines!"

Mollie makes climb history on Mt Everest

A WOMAN has made history by becoming the youngest British climber to scale Mount Everest from both sides.

Mollie Hughes, 26 (above), who is based in Edinburgh, reached the summit of Everest (8,848m) from the north side yesterday.

The feat also makes her the youngest European woman and the first English lady to scale the peak from both the north and south sides.

In temperatures as low as -40C, Mollie – who is originally from Torbay, Devon – reached the summit at 1.14am GMT (5.34am local time in Nepal) with climbing partner Jon Gupta of Mountain Expeditions.

She hopes to raise more than £8,000 for Cancer Research UK – £1 for every metre climbed – and is being supported throughout the expedition by Tiso where she works in Edinburgh.

After reaching the summit, Ms Hughes said: "I am elated, exhausted and know I still have the hardest part to do – the long and difficult descent to base camp."

ROLF GROPE ACCUSER'S 'LIES TO GET STAR'S CASH'

A WOMAN who claims Rolf Harris groped her when she was 14 has been accused of fabricating the allegation to get on a "compensation bandwagon" from his multi-million pound fortune.

The alleged victim told the entertainer's indecent assault trial he put his hand up her skirt at a 1971 music event for children in London after she asked for an autograph.

But Southwark Crown Court heard she first went to the authorities by making two calls to the NSPCC on July 3 2014, after Harris, 87, had been convicted in a trial at the same court.

In the first call she said she had been touched inappropriately at the 1971 youth event, saying: "There was a guest appearance by Rolf Harris, I don't need to say any more."

Cross-examining, defence lawyer Stephen Vullo QC asked her: "Mr Harris had a trial in this court in May 2014. He was convicted on June 30, 2014.

"Was there any reason you chose July 3 as the day to ring? He was due to be sentenced on July 4, the very next day.

"Were you aware of that being the case?"

When she said she couldn't recall the date of the call, he asked if she had been in "a bit of a rush", saying: "Were you concerned that you had to get your call in before the case finished?"

She said: "Not at all."

Later, he asked if in the days before her call to the NSPCC she had read that people "were in line to take part of his £11 million fortune?"

She denied this, and he again pointed out she only came forward after he had been convicted, asking: "Is that because you saw the potential of a compensation bandwagon going by and thought you would jump on it?"

She replied: "No, not at all."

Animal Hospital host Harris is standing trial accused of indecently assaulting three teenage girls in the 1970s and 1980s. He is also alleged to have touched a 13-year-old girl's breast after filming a children's TV programme.

He is seperately accused of twice groping a third girl, aged 16.

He denies four charges of indecent assault.

Billie's back in Tardis with Tenth Doctor

DOCTOR Who favourites David Tennant and Billie Piper are set to be reunited in their time travelling roles.

The pair will return to play the Tenth Doctor and his companion Rose Tyler for three audio episodes as part of Doctor Who: The Tenth Doctor Adventures – Volume 2.

Tennant was the Doctor in the BBC sci-fi series from 2005 to 2009 and Billie (above) played his companion in 2005 and 2006, returning for a short run in 2008.

Since his departure, Tennant has made a reappearance during 2013's 50th anniversary special The Day Of The Doctor, where he starred alongside Matt Smith and John Hurt, and he has also worked on volume one of the audio series with former Time Lord companion Catherine Tate.

Executive producer Jason Haigh-Ellery told the BBC: "Getting David and Billie back together was definitely on my bucket list."

Tennant took over the starring role in 2005 from Christopher Eccleston.

Lindsay STRUTT

jess@sundaysport.co.uk

WHEN it comes to bonking there isn't much that busty Lindsay Strutt hasn't tried.

But the glamour babe has revealed the one kinky act that she's DESPERATE to try out.

The 27-year-old scorcher, from Doncaster, said she's never tied up a fella in the bedroom before, but she's still on the hunt for a willing volunteer.

Lindsay thinks it would be a huge turn-on to take control and dominate a lucky guy.

Hands

The 34GG babe said: "I haven't tied up a man so far, but it would feel good to have power over a bloke – especially if we'd just had an argument.

"I could seduce him, make him think I'd forgiven him, and then go out shopping!

"I'd make it up to him when I got home though. After five minutes in my hands he'd soon forget about what I'd done!"

TEACHER'S SEX TEXTS TO TEEN PUPIL'S MUM

A TEACHER who sent 'inappropriate' and 'sexually-motivated' messages to a schoolgirl while sexting her mum, has been banned from the classroom.

By COLIN HURST

news@sundaysport.co.uk

Martin Wrigley, 48, from Clitheroe, Lancs, befriended the mother through his own daughters.

The woman's eldest daughter went on sleepovers and bowling trips with Wrigley and one of his daughters, while her youngest became his teacher's pet – winning competitions and being picked to play key roles in school plays.

He also had a video of the youngest sister, 10, doing gymnastics.

A National College for Teaching and Leadership disciplinary hearing in Coventry heard that he would message the younger sister and sign with an 'x' or an emoticon.

He bombarded the mother with late night messages of a 'sexually explicit' nature between February and December 2015.

Wrigley was caught out by the mother's husband who deemed his relationship with his wife and daughters as 'inappropriate' and 'over familiar'.

He had begun texting the mum about hoodies that she and her hubby were organising for pupils who were going on a trip to Old Trafford.

Explicit

He said the messages became sexually explicit when they then began discussing their home lives and she told him she was 'fed up and alone at night'.

But it wasn't until her husband arranged to meet him that he realised he had overstepped the mark between a teacher and parent.

Wrigley failed to appear at his disciplinary hearing, where he was banned from the profession for at least two years.

Panel chairman Brian Hawkins said: "The panel considered that showing favouritism to Pupil A (the younger sister) and inappropriately texting Pupil B (older sister), taken in the context of the relationship he had formed with their mother, showed a reckless disregard for the possible impact of his behaviour on the well-being of Pupils A and B.

"In his teaching, Mr Wrigley had a number of informal warnings about his behaviour. In ignoring this advice, Mr Wrigley demonstrated a cavalier attitude."

Killer dog woman is spared jail

A WOMAN whose dog mauled to death a neighbour's tot who had gone to her house to play with her children has been spared jail.

Dexter Neal,three, died in hospital after being bitten by Jade Dunne's American bulldog Ruby at her home in Halstead, Essex, on August 18 last year.

Mother-of-three Dunne (above), 29, admitted owning a dog dangerously out of control, resulting in death, at an earlier hearing.

She was sentenced to 12 months in prison, suspended for two years, at Chelmsford Crown Court.

Dunne was also disqualified from owning a dog for 10 years, and must complete 100 hours of unpaid work.

The court heard that as Dexter went round to play with the Dunne children the dog pushed him down and bit his neck and head.

A neighbour grabbed the dog's collar and hauled it away. Dexter died later having suffered cardiac arrest due to blood loss.

The dog was seized by cops and destroyed.

2 dead, 1 hurt in 'murder-suicide'

A COUPLE who died in an apparent murder-suicide in Northern Ireland have been named locally.

Peadar Phair, 55, and 51-year-old Concepta Leonard were found dead at a house in Lisnaskea in Co Fermanagh on Monday.

Detectives believe Ms Leonard was murdered inside her isolated home in the lakeland county.

A third person, a man aged in his 30s who is believed to be her son, suffered stab wounds. He is in hospital in a stable condition.

Investigators are treating that attack as attempted murder.

The Police Service of Northern Ireland's Det Ch Insp Eamon Corrigan said: "We are not looking for anyone else in relation to the incident at this time.

"Although our enquiries are at an early stage, we are treating the death of the woman as murder."

REALITY telly star Lisa Appleton narrowly avoided spilling out of her bikini top as her ample assets looked desperate to escape.

Lisa, 48, paraded around Spain in a brightly coloured two-piece but her bright pink top struggled to contain her impressive bust.

The brunette was sunbathing in a holiday resort when her huge boobs almost popped out.

Lisa, who is enjoying a comeback after appearing in Big Brother in 2008, is tipped to make a return to the reality TV show when the new series starts next month.

Channel 5 announced the latest Big Bro will focus heavily on all things British.

RAF DRONE STOPS ISIS BEHEADINGS

AN RAF drone strike has stopped an execution by Islamic State in Syria, the Ministry of Defence has said.

DIRECT HIT: Reaper drone

By JON VALE

news@sundaysport.co.uk

The Reaper drone initially spotted a group of fighters from the terror group, also known as Daesh, mustering a large crowd in the town of Abu Kamal in eastern Syria.

An MoD spokesman said: "When a van then unloaded two shackled prisoners in front of the crowd, it became clear Daesh were organising a public execution. Given the large number of civilians present, the Reaper's crew could not target directly the Daesh fighters about to carry out the murders.

"However, two armed extremists were stationed as sentries on the roof of a building overlooking the scene.

"A Hellfire missile was fired immediately and scored a direct hit which not only killed one of the sentries but also brought the execution to an immediate halt, as the Daesh fighters fled the scene, and the crowd of civilians dispersed."

The attack took place on Tuesday last week.

TOWIE Jasmin wants Strictly TV comeback

FORMER TOWIE star Jasmin Walia wants to return to reality TV – and would love to take part in Strictly Come Dancing.

Jasmin (above), 26, said goodbye to The Only Way Is Essex in 2015 to focus on her music career but is open to returning to the small screen.

She's definitely no stranger to reality TV, and has appeared on The X Factor when she auditioned in front of the judges but failed to impress the ITV panel, including music mogul Simon Cowell.

However, it hasn't put her off and Jasmin admitted she would return to TV.

She said: "I'd love to do either Strictly Come Dancing or Celebs Go Dating."

Brunette beauty Jasmin previously found love with fellow reality star Ross Worswick who starred in Ex on the Beach.

But despite wanting a spot on ITV2's Celebs Go Dating, Jasmin says she's not looking for love and is focused on her music career.

McDonald's 'sorry' over TV death ad

FAST food giant McDonald's has apologised for "any upset" caused by its new telly advert that a charity condemned as exploiting child bereavement.

The ad first screened on May 12 and shows a boy talking with his mother about his late father and wondering what they had in common.

He is then shown sitting in a McDonald's restaurant with his mother, who reveals they shared a love of the same meal, a Filet-o-Fish.

The ad was slammed on social media and bereavement charity Grief Encounter said it had received "countless calls" from parents of bereaved children saying it had caused them upset.

A McDonald's spokeswoman said: "We apologise for any upset this advert has caused. This was by no means an intention of ours."

MARIAH'S GOT THE X FACTOR

She's lined up to replace Nicole

BUSTY: Mariah and (below) Nic

By JESS GALLEY jess@sundaysport.co.uk

POP diva Mariah Carey is being lined up to move into Nicole Scherzinger's seat on The X Factor judging panel.

According to telly insiders, Nicole has not yet signed on the dotted line to return to the ITV show later this year.

And Simon Cowell is eyeing up Mariah to replace her.

The 47-year-old All I Want For Christmas singer is rumoured to be 'very keen' to be involved with UK talent competition.

Strike

Our source said: "Mariah really wants the job – she thinks her decades of experience would be invaluable to the contestants.

"And with rumours growing that Nicole might not be returning, she sees this as her time to strike.

"Nicole has been stalling and hasn't yet signed her contract to return – although she has met with Simon recently."

The former Pussycat Dolls singer has been linked to a number of other high-profile projects – including a movie remake of the hit musical Wicked, which would conflict with her role on the ITV show.

And her fellow judge Louis Walsh, 64, added fuel to the fire when he seemed to confirm that Nicole was up for the big-screen part in a recent interview.

He said: "Nicole might be getting a big movie like Wicked."

However, the Irish music mogul – who has famously managed Boyzone and Westlife – named Mel B as his favourite to step into 38-year-old Nicole's shoes, and not Mariah.

...AND 1D LOUIS IS IN FOR MEL B IN STATES

ONE Direction star Louis Tomlinson is set to return to his roots after bagging himself a top job on a TV talent show.

The 25-year-old former boyband singer shot to fame as one fifth of 1D on The X Factor in 2010.

And he's now hotly tipped to replace Mel B on America's Got Talent over in the States.

Former Spice Girl Mel is said to be under a lot of stress with her recent split from hubby Stephen Belafonte and show boss Simon Cowell looks likely to get Louis to step in.

A source said: "Simon is insisting Mel stays for now, despite the fact that she's totally stressed out.

"It would be untrue to say she's a nervous wreck, but she's clearly upset.

"There are growing calls for her to be replaced by Louis immediately.

"Some producers feel she should be side-lined until her private life is sorted out for good."

Louis appeared on the hit US show as a guest judge last year.

JOSIE: I WANNA BE A LESBIAN

By BECCA STUBBS
becca@sundaysport.co.uk

BIG BROTHER winner Josie Gibson says she's turning LESBIAN after being left heartbroken by her cheating ex-fella.

Josie, 32, shot to fame in 2010 but after a string of bad relationships, she's now turning her attention to wooing a woman.

The blonde outed her ex-boyfriend Sam Player on social media after she allegedly found out he was dating five other women.

Josie said: "I'm going to turn into a nun, or I could be a lesbian.

"I could have a relationship with a woman, 100 per cent. I'd be an angry lesbian. I'm quite bloke-ish."

Josie added of her ideal woman: "She'd have to be quite masculine. She'd have to be a really funny, strong woman, someone who could handle herself."

SPARE RIB TICKLER: Josie

BECK'S I WASN'T 'ARF SCARED!

GOLDENBALLS David Beckham admitted he was TERRIFIED about his role in upcoming action flick King Arthur.

The 42-year-old footie legend bagged himself a role in pal Guy Ritchie's movie, but confessed he was more scared this time around compared with his previos cameo appearance in The Man from U.N.C.L.E.

He said: "I was so nervous. Guy said, 'With this, you're going to have a few more lines'.

"I was like, 'OK'. Then he put me right in the middle of about 150 people shouting and hollering. It was a little bit daunting.

"It was a scary experience."

NOT VERY GOOD: Becks in King Arthur and (above) Guy Ritchie

Tess O'REILLY

By BECCA STUBBS
becca@sundaysport.co.uk

TOPLESS stunna Tess O'Reilly is constantly checking out other women's BOOBS and loves staring at naked women!

The 33-year-old Irish babe lives in Gateshead – and it's the North East's women she can't get enough of.

Although she's never gone further than a cheeky snog, 32E lovely Tess would definitely turn for burlesque dancer Dita Von Teese.

She said: "I see lots of naked women in my job, as whenever you do a photoshoot everyone lets it all hang out.

Kiss

"I like looking at women's bodies. I think they're much nicer than men's, so I'm always looking at boobs!

"I have had a bit of a kiss, but that's it.

"I don't think I would feel comfortable going any further, unless it was with Dita.

"I'd waive the rules for her!"

Knife frenzy lover spared jail - because she's clever!

By COLIN HURST news@sundaysport.co.uk

A CLEVER Oxford University student who stabbed her lover could be spared jail – because it would damage her career.

Aspiring heart surgeon Lavinia Woodward, 24, punched and slashed at the man with a bread knife during a drink-and-drug fuelled row.

She then stabbed the Cambridge-educated boyfriend in the leg before hurling a laptop, glass and a jam jar at him at iconic Christ Church college, Oxford.

Woodward admitted a charge of unlawful wounding at Oxford Crown Court and Judge Ian Pringle said the offence would normally mean a custodial sentence.

But he then delayed sentencing for a period of four months and hinted she won't be jailed – because of her "extraordinary" talent.

The court was told her college will allow her to return in October as she "is that bright" with articles published in medical journals.

Judge Pringle said jailing her could be unfair because it could affect her career.

He said: "It seems to me that if this was a one-off, a complete one-off, to prevent this extraordinary able young lady from not following her long-held desire to enter the profession she wishes to, would be a sentence which would be too severe.

"What you did will never, I know, leave you but it was pretty awful, and normally would attract a custodial sentence, whether it is immediate or suspended."

TALENT: Woodward

Addict

Woodward did not attend court as she was in Milan, Italy, with her mum, the court heard.

Prosecutor Cathy Olliver said Woodward met her ex on Tinder and at the time of the attack, on September 30, her behaviour "deteriorated".

Defending, James Sturman QC said his drug addict client's dreams of becoming a surgeon were "almost impossible" as her conviction would have to disclosed.

Woodward will be sentenced in September.

Users feel the selfie squeeze

HTC has revealed its newest smartphone, which can be squeezed in order to take selfies and launch other apps.

The tech giant's new U11 device houses technology called Edge Sense, based around sensors built into the side of the device that respond to being squeezed.

The Taiwanese firm is also the first to include support for both the Google Assistant and Amazon Alexa smart virtual assistants.

The HTC U11, which will cost £649, is the tech giant's challenger to the new Samsung Galaxy S8 and the iPhone 7.

The Edge Sense technology can be used to open the camera and take selfies, as well as launch apps and trigger voice control features.

It also works when the phone is wet.

Phil could've made Orlando a Dead Man

THIS Morning host Phillip Schofield has revealed he almost KILLED Hollywood star Orlando Bloom.

The silver fox, 55, made the shocking confession on the ITV morning show as he chatted to the Pirates of the Caribbean star via video link.

Phillip (above) said he could have put an end to 40-year-old Orlando's career when he almost mowed him down in his car in Henley-on-Thames, in Oxfordshire.

He said: "Shall I come clean right from the very start of this interview ? This glittering career, none of this would have happened if you'd taken two more steps when you stepped off the pavement in Henley-On-Thames and I nearly ran you over."

Orlando burst into laughter and said "that's right" as he remembered the incident.

The Lord of the Rings star was on the show to chat about new Pirates movie Dead Men Tell No Tales.

Fact me!

THE first-ever mobile phone network could handle a maximum of three calls at the same time in any given city.

Rescue chopper kills hurt hiker

A HIKER who called for an air ambulance after getting trapped up a mountain was killed when the helicopter that came to save him dislodged a rock which hit him on the head.

Police say they are investigating the details of the failed rescue, which took place near a mountain stream in the Japanese village of Tanba.

The man, who was from Yokohama and in his 40s, apparently called for rescue after injuring his left ankle Saturday. His climbing partner alerted the Yamanashi police and an officer located him shortly past noon Sunday.

As the rescue got underway, the man and the police officer were both hit by falling trees and stones as the chopper hovered above, say cops.

A police spokesman said it is regrettable a person awaiting rescue died and that they were checking procedures.

Breaking Bad gran & grandad!

METH MAKERS: Patrick Newton and Lillian Beatty

By COLIN HURST
news@sundaysport.co.uk

A GRANDAD and grandma have been caught making the deadly drug meth in their back yard.

Cops got a tip off about the elderly couple, Patrick Newton and Lillian Beatty, and raided their home.

There they found material used to make the drug – made famous by the popular TV show Breaking Bad – as well as an ounce of the substance ready to be sold.

Pensions

Newton, 63, and 61-year-old Beatty gave themselves up to cops and are currently in jail awaiting trial.

Police say the pair were supplementing their pensions with the sideline of drug dealing and making around £400 a week from their home in Lebanon, Oregon.

They have been charged with delivery and possession of methamphetamine.

A source said: "In a way this sounds like it might be a funny little story about an elderly couple dipping their toes into the world of drug dealing.

"But it doesn't matter who sells the drugs, they do harm.

"They break down families and they destroy lives. This couple are part of that.

"They deserve to be punished, no matter what their age."

NOW that I've returned from sunny Spain, I will be back on Studio 66 TV! Make sure you tune in tomorrow night from 10pm on Sky 912 and from midnight on Freeview channel 185 to see me – and my gorgeous tan – in action!

If you miss me on Thursday don't worry guys, as I will be back on your screens on Tuesday night at the usual time! Or, as always, you can log on to www.harddrive.xxx every single day!

Linsey Dawn McKenzie

SHE'S BRITAIN'S ONLY TOPLESS COLUMNIST

TODAY marks three years since my mum passed away.

The time has gone so quickly, but it doesn't get any easier not having her around.

I will be spending the day today with my sister Alyson and we're going to go out for some lunch and have a couple of drinks in mum's memory.

Despite the fact that three years have passed, there is still so much more that needs to be done in terms of research and treatment for pancreatic cancer.

It took my mum's life suddenly and there are still so many families whose lives are torn apart by this disease.

HERE'S a photo of me and my gorgeous best pal Lucy Zara in Majorca.

Last week was amazing in the villa with all the girls and I can't wait for you all to see the saucy new content I shot while I was out there!

I was really sad to leave on Friday but I had to rush back to attend a fundraiser for Chestnut Tree House Children's Hospice.

It's a cause that's really close to my heart and I wouldn't have missed it for the world!

I had a mad rush getting there and even had to get changed in the car on the way there!

She's Strictly bad news

WOMEN of America, lock up your hubbies as Kristina Rihanoff is heading Stateside to join Dancing With the Stars!

She was rumoured to be heading back to Strictly – but that was allegedly quashed when Shirley Ballas was announced as a replacement for Len Goodman as head judge.

Fling

Because, like lots of other women, Kristina's got history with Shirley after having a fling with her ex-husband, Corky.

I couldn't believe it when I read he had left Shirley for her back in 2004. Why can't she find a bloke of her own and stop running off with other people's men?

I already had a pretty poor opinion of her as a man-eater after hooking up with two of her Strictly dance partners – Joe Calazaghe and Ben Cohen, despite the fact that they were in relationships.

But I had no idea that she'd done it before!

I know she might have changed, having had a baby with Ben, but if I was an American woman, I would seriously consider locking up my man while she's over there filming.

Does a leopard ever truly change its spots..?

Are you Scher, love?

WHEN is Nicole Scherzinger going to learn that as long as she keeps going for these young guys, she'll still struggle to find her happy-ever-after.

At 38 she keeps talking about how she wants to settle down and have kids in the near future.

Yet she keeps sinking her claws into these men in their 20s and 30s.

Did she seriously think that Grigor Dimitrov was going to settle down and start a family at 26, while he's at the height of his career? Don't be daft Nicole!

She needs to start looking for slightly older guys who want the same things she does.

If she does that, she'll have the family life she says she wants.

I think her problem is that she refuses to let go of her youth and acknowledge she's knocking on 40.

And I reckon she needs to give up her career as a pop star, as there are far younger, singers in the charts these days that she won't be able to keep up with for much longer!

Kate: I'm Wright for Big Bruv!

PRIME TARGET: Busty Kate and (inset) her rumoured fella Rio Ferdinand

REALITY babe Kate Wright is set to swap TOWIE for the Celebrity Big Brother house.

The 25-year-old Essex beauty quit the ITVBe series earlier this month after claiming she wanted to focus on her 'exciting bikini range'.

But we can now reveal that the busty blonde could be back on our TV screens sooner than we thought – as she is top of the producer's list of desired housemates for the new series this summer.

An inside source said: "During the short time she was on TOWIE, Kate attracted quite a fan base.

Desperate

"She was a hit with viewers and has a huge social media following.

"Add that to the fact she is going out with Rio Ferdinand and Kate is a bona fide celebrity.

By JESS GALLEY
jess@sundaysport.co.uk

"C5 are desperate to sign her up as not only will she bring with her viewers from The Only Way is Essex, but she'll also attract a different audience because of who she is dating.

"She is their No.1 target at the moment and, given that she is trying to promote her new swimwear range, she seems pretty likely to sign up."

Kate, who joined TOWIE in 2015, is said to have been dating former England and Man United star Rio Ferdinand since the beginning of the year after they met in Dubai.

The new couple have kept quiet about their blossoming romance so far and have been extra careful not to be snapped out together.

Rio hasn't dated since his wife Rebecca passed away from breast cancer in 2015.

EasyJet takes a pounding

BUDGET airline easyJet has racked up half-year losses after being stung by the collapse in the value of the Brexit-hit pound and the later timing of Easter.

The low-cost carrier reported a £236m pre-tax loss in the six months to March 31, compared with an £18m loss in the same period last year.

EasyJet said the impact of the timing of Easter into the second half of the year stood at around £45m – while currency woes cost it £82m.

Chief executive Carolyn McCall said: "The first half loss is in line with expectations and reflects the movement of Easter as well as currency effects."

She added that summer bookings are ahead of last year and demand for flights and holidays remains strong while revenue grew 3.2 per cent to £1.8bn.

DRAMA TEACHER'S 'SEX IN BACK OF HER CAR WITH BOY STUDENT, 15'

DENIAL: Drama teacher Pamela Stigger

By COLIN HURST news@sundaysport.co.uk

A DRAMA teacher is accused of having sex with a 15-year-old boy in the back of her car.

Pamela Stigger, 33, was arrested in the middle of the night – just moments after she'd bonked her former student.

A police officer caught Stigger at about 2am in the back seat of the vehicle with the boy who was naked from the waist down.

Authorities say Stigger denied having sexual contact with the lad and said he was 'attempting to seduce her' when police approached the car. She told cops 'she was only trying to mentor him', according to her arrest report.

The boy told police that Stigger was driving him home when she pulled over and allegedly started kissing him.

Caught

He said Stigger told him to get into the back seat and claims they took off their clothes and had sex.

The drama teacher got dressed and was allegedly performing a sexual act on the boy when she was caught.

Stigger is a teacher at Forest Glen Middle School in Florida and police say that she had previously been the victim's teacher.

She has since been charged with two counts of sexual battery and one count of lewd conduct.

Stigger faced court last week and bail was set at £29,000. She was ordered to wear an electronic ankle tag and is banned from contacting the victim.

Broward County Schools said Stigger has since been reassigned away from the school.

Paris: Reality TV stars have me to thank!

AMERICAN heiress Paris Hilton reckons the reality stars of today have her to thank for inventing the genre.

The 36-year-old (above) was one of the first reality stars when she appeared in Fox series The Simple Life, which first aired in 2003, alongside her pal Nicole Richie.

The show followed Paris, who now tours the world as a DJ, and Nicole, 35, as they swapped their A-list society lives to get their hands dirty, working on farms up and down the US.

Paris said: "I started a whole new genre of celebrity that no-one had ever seen before.

"Nowadays it's so easy to get famous."

The blonde beauty also claims to have created the 'selfie'.

She added: "If a beeper had a camera, I would have taken a selfie with it.

"I think I have a selfie from when I was a little kid, like on a disposable camera."

'Church' sued for sex parties

A SEX club has been sued for pretending to be a CHURCH in order to take out a lease on a building it uses to throw weekend SWINGERS' parties.

In its application to lease the property, 'Freedom 4 All' said it would be used to house the United Fellowship Center church.

Instead, officials say it uses the 22,000 square foot building for weekend sex parties – for members of 'The Social Club'.

According to a lawsuit filed by city officials, party guests are required to pay to attend as a couple, or as singletons, to gain entry.

In another area, they said they saw a naked woman lying on a bed while a man performed a sex act on her and four other men stood around them and watched.

The property deed is in the name of Ginger Ford, who previously attended swingers' conferences in Nashville, Tennessee.

HORNY Hannah Massey prefers to save money on her water bills – by sharing hot, steamy showers.

And the blonde beauty, 25, from York, reckons it's easier when there's someone else because they can reach all the bits she can't.

Crannies

Hannah loves feeling a pair of soapy hands on her 34D norks and said: "It's much more fun to have someone shower with you, isn't it? How else can you get really clean in all those hard to reach nooks and crannies?

"And I reckon there's nothing more exciting than stripping off after a long hard day and the feel of the hot water gushing all over my naked body.

"I love to feel slippery hands on my body and I might even let the owner of them have a play with my rubber ducky if they're lucky."

Victoria Zdrok says...

> I LOVE the fact that older people are shunning the stereotype that they don't have sex. I'll be having sex until the grave, I absolutely love shagging so long may it continue!

GENERATION SEX!

How Britain's couples have changed the way they shag

MATURE horny couples are getting more frisky as British attitudes to sex between the generations has changed dramatically – with most getting a bonk every other month.

A new survey researched the average length of time people of different ages go between bedroom romps.

Over 1,500 people were quizzed by Superdrug's Online Doctor about their bedroom habits, and the results revealed…

- Millennials are the more sexually active with their average dry spell lasting just one month.
- Baby Boomers, who were born just after World War II, and Generation X people, born between the 1960s and 1980s, are still getting their fair share of romps with their dry spells lasting just two months on average.

By BECCA STUBBS
becca@sundaysport.co.uk

Bang

The survey also compared people's relationship status to the amount of times they were getting a frisky between the sheets.

People in relationships are having sex more frequently than singles but the typical couple are going at it once a week.

The survey threw up some extreme examples of dry spells with one Generation X couple experiencing the longest, having gone 24 years between legovers.

Older people, or the Baby Boomers, produced a couple who had gone 12 years without a bonk. Even a younger Millennial couple went nine years without getting their parts wet, the survey found.

Gender also played a part in the length of dry spell, with American males averaging a one month wait between bangs, whereas U.S. women wait just two weeks – posing the question: who are the Yank women shagging that their fellas don't know about?

Europeans were on an even keel, with fellas waiting two weeks and women waiting two weeks and three days.

We asked three Midweek Sport babes what they thought of the findings…

Sam Saint says…

'OLDER people are running the youngsters close in getting a good shag. In my experience older men are better shags anyway. They're experienced and know exactly how to please a woman.'

Polly Anderson says…

'I'M a Millennial but I much prefer kinky nights in with an older man – the foreplay is always better and they can go for much longer than the younger blokes. I say to elderly folk: Keep going – I would!'

‘Dirty Dozen’ lust!

WOMEN WANT MEN WHO’VE HAD AT LEAST 12 LOVERS

By JESS GALLEY
jess@sundaysport.co.uk

NEW research has revealed the ideal number of previous sexual partners – 12.

A study carried out by saucy extra-marital dating site Illicit Encounters revealed that for both men and women it’s the perfect number of former lovers.

The poll quizzed more than 1,000 Brits to find out the prime number for past conquests.

Liberal

And the majority reckon 12 is the magic number because it suggests someone sexually “adventurous, liberal and transient”.

However, it’s bad news if you’ve bonked fewer than 10 people as the findings revealed it implies sexual inexperience.

IllicitEncounters.com’s Christian Grant said: “We are more liberal, tolerant and sexually adventurous than we’ve ever been, so the numbers game matters.

“A good sexual connection is the cornerstone of a solid relationship, so someone who is lacking sexual experience, is a too conservative between the sheets, or both, is a legitimate cause for concern for some people.

“Men are a more self-conscious when it comes to competition, too. They want to be seen as the biggest and best; whether that stems from genuinely wanting to satisfy their partner or to massage their own ego is another matter entirely.

“Women, on the other hand, are just happy to enjoy the moment, past experiences aside.”

The survey also revealed how many lovers is considered too many, with the majority of lads and lasses admitting that anything above 19 is a “red flag”.

Bonking

We asked Sport babe Katy Keller what she considered the perfect number, and whether she thinks it’s necessary to fess up about how many lovers you’ve had.

Katy, 25, from Derby, told us: “I couldn’t care less how many people my man has slept with before me, as long as he isn’t bonking any of them behind my back!

“As to an ideal number, I agree that less than 10 is a turn-off and I reckon any more than 25, it could give the wrong impression.”

'I found a glory hole and just went for it!'

MY SEX FANTASY WITH ... SHIONE COOPER

SAUCY Shione Cooper has a VERY filthy confession... she once gave a STRANGER a glory hole blowjob!

By JESS GALLEY
jess@sundaysport.co.uk

The encounter happened when the 36D stunna went to a sex cinema in Dublin with a boyfriend last year.

The theatre – inside sex shop GlamWorld on Mary Street – is an "anything goes" club for swingers and voyeurs.

Glamour model Shione, 27, originally from Prague, said: "I'd never really had that much of a wild sex life – I've never had a threesome, for example.

"Then I met a guy online who was into all sorts.

"I had so much fun with him and he made me feel so much more daring.

"When we went away for a weekend in Dublin he told me about this sex cinema inside a sex shop.

"So we read up on it – there are porn films daily on a big screen and people go on their own, or in couples.

"It's a hotspot for swingers who indulge in wild orgies.

"But if that's not for you, there are private booths were you can get it on with your partner – you can be seen, but no-one will join in unless they have been invited.

Peeping

"I was well up for some exhibitionism, so when my fella asked if I'd like to visit the place with him I said yes – well, you only live once!

"As we entered the place, I wasn't entirely sure what to expect. It was dark and a bit dingy and felt a little bit seedy – but that was a huge turn-on!

"I'd had a few drinks first for Dutch courage, but I'm not sure I needed to – something took over me and it brought out my inner slut!

"Me and my fella got comfy and watched the film and I was dying for him to touch me.

"And when he did – while other couples and lone guys were sat all around us also touching themselves – it felt so incredibly hot.

"We disappeared to a private booth and I rode him cowgirl style – as I could see people peeping in on us.

"I was so turned-on that I suggested we go and explore the place and enjoy some action with other people, and he was well up for it.

"I soon stumbled into a glory hole area and I just went for it.

"It felt so naughty sucking off an anonymous stranger whose face I hadn't seen. My fella had fun with another couple.

"It's not really one to tell the grandkids about, though!"

THE WORLD FAMOUS AGONY Page

Dear Ashleigh,

A COUPLE of weeks ago I caught the wife shagging our neighbour – he's 50 and is a keen gardener since he took early retirement.

I told her I was going out golfing but returned within an hour and as soon as I got in I could hear her moaning and groaning from our bedroom.

I went upstairs and sure enough they were hard at it and I watched as my neighbour ploughed into my wife.

She had her legs draped over his shoulders and the bed's headboard was banging the wall as he shafted her.

The trouble is I got turned on by watching her having sex with another man without her knowing I was there.

I think she's going to shag him again this Friday because she's booked a day off work and I'm going to watch again.

Do you think I'm weird?

FD, Derbyshire

Ashleigh says…

MAYBE not weird, but certainly a bit odd. Why not shag her yourself?

Dear Ashleigh,

I'M married to a man who works away a lot, which means I'm often lonely and desperate for sex.

I've shagged loads of plumbers, electricians and builders who have come to my house.

I get them to come out to quote for work and then offer them a good, hard fking.

I'm 33, with a decent figure and have had no refusals so far – just last week I had a plumber and his mate.

I sucked one off to completion while the other took me from behind.

But I'm now worried that my neighbours have noticed all these men visiting the house and that they will tell my husband.

What can I do?

PK, Edinburgh

Ashleigh says…

BUY a vibrator!

I get one 'L' of a ride for lessons in love!

Dear Ashleigh,

I'M a driving instructor and I'm shagging one of my pupils, a very busty 19-year-old – and I'm 45!

Instead of paying me for her lessons she gives me blowjobs and full sex. The last time we did it, I parked up in a country lane.

I'd had a hard-on for the whole lesson, looking at her boobs almost popping out of her low-cut top.

We started kissing and she got my cock out and sucked me off. After about five minutes of her gobbling me I exploded down her throat.

I'm now shagging this girl's best friend – again for free driving lessons.

Now loads of women are asking if they can have lessons in exchange for a shag.

JR, Essex

Ashleigh says…

TRY to reduce your sex drive and get your head in gear. If you carry on like this you'll be skint.

Mature lover gives me best sex I've ever had

Dear Ashleigh,

I'M a 19-year-old hairdresser and I'm going out with a man who is 20 years older than me.

We met in a bar where I'd gone with some friends after work.

There was a group of young lads pestering us and he stepped in and told them they were spoiling our fun.

The lads said a couple of snide remarks about the stranger being my 'grandad' but they left the place soon after without making any trouble.

The older man bought me a drink and we chatted for the rest of the night.

I discovered we had a lot in common and I grew to quite fancy him by the end of the evening.

So when he offered me a lift home later I accepted.

When we got back to my apartment I asked him in for coffee – if you know what I mean?!

And once inside I wanted him so much I leaned over and kissed him fully on the lips, slipping my tongue into his hot, wet mouth.

Fingers

Then his hand slipped under my skirt, stroking the soft flesh at the top of my thighs.

He gently pushed my panties aside and it was pretty obvious to him that I was turned on because I was so moist.

As his expert fingers explored me I felt I would explode with desire and I came almost straight away.

After I'd recovered, I unzipped his pants and started to play with his impressive hard-on.

He moaned as I lowered my head and took him tenderly between my lips and within minutes I felt the pressure building inside him so I withdrew my mouth and said we should go to bed.

We undressed and he licked and sucked on my pert breasts – there was something about the way he rolled his tongue around my nipples that drove me absolutely wild and I was writhing around all over the bed.

Throbbing

Then I pushed him on the bed, straddled his throbbing cock and gently lowered myself on to him.

I fked him slowly at first and then slowly picked up the pace until we both came together.

It was the best sex I'd ever had and afterwards we lay in each other's arms and cuddled up.

I've been with him for six months now and I adore him.

The sex is still fantastic but the problem is I want us to go out clubbing with my pals but he says he prefers to stay in and watch the telly of a night.

How can I tell him he's starting to bore me without hurting him?

DB, East Sussex

Ashleigh says...

THERE was always going to be a problem – with such a big age gap.

You might have to accept that your fella's partying days are well and truly behind him.

You must either accept your relationship with him for what it is, or find a new guy.

DO YOU HAVE A SEX PROBLEM?

Dying to slip pub babe a large one

Dear Ashleigh,

THERE'S a gorgeous barmaid with a stunning figure who works in my local pub.

Last week I saw her shopping in town and we got talking. She said she was knackered and needed a break so we stopped off for a coffee together.

The two of us were chatting and laughing for about two hours before she realised what time it was and said that she needed to get home.

As she lives above the pub, I offered her a lift home in my car, that was parked just around the corner.

She invited me in to say 'thanks' and after we'd had a couple of sneaky drinks that she fetched from a fridge in the pub downstairs, I was astounded when she asked if I fancied a shag!

Begged

It didn't take me long to get her knickers off and my tongue up her tight hole.

Then she dragged me in to her bathroom and begged me to bone her from behind with her bent over the sink.

She then rode me in the bedroom and gave me a brilliant view of her massive tits as they bounced all over the place.

But now I'm worried she'll let something slip to my wife when we go in the pub together as a "happy couple" next time.

What should I do?

RE, Devon

Ashleigh says...

OFFER the barmaid a regular shag in return for her keeping quiet...or find a new boozer to take the missus out to!

Dear Ashleigh,

I'LL be totally honest and admit I've always enjoyed playing the field.

But I met my match the other week when I slept with a woman who confessed that she enjoys romping with both men and women.

And she said that when she goes out she has both men and women lusting over her.

I can't blame them because she's slim, with a fantastic body and the longest legs you've ever seen – like some kind of supermodel.

And when we shagged she really took control.

But when I saw her out in town a few weeks later she had this gorgeous girl on her arm and it was pretty obvious they were up for lesbo fun.

She totally ignored me.

I can't get her out of my head – but I'm confused as to how I can convince such an adventurous woman that I'm 'the one' for her.

DC, Berks

Ashleigh says...

I WOULD either accept her for what she is or forget all about her.

It's the old cliche, but it's true as – there are plenty more fish in the sea, my friend.

Plenty more.

The 33-year-old, from Hull, loves the blonde bombshell's pert pair and can't get enough of Lucy's topless pictures.

Lucy, 25, from Birmingham, is the woman of Mike's dreams and he said he'd love to work on her 32Ds.

He added: "If she booked me for work, I'd definitely be doing overtime.

"She's so stunning – the things I'd do to Lucy are unprintable…even for the Sport!"

ROISIN HUNTER

FLAME-HAIRED Roisin Hunter left Brian Shephard floored when she turned up at his nightclub in Brixton, south London.

Brian, 46, was left flabbergasted when he saw his favourite Sport girl Roisin, 29, from Islington, north London, partying hard in his fave club.

But after seeing her in the flesh, he now wants to see her bare 30DD boobs in all their glory again.

Brian told us: "She walked into my favourite club with all her mates and I spotted her dancing.

"She looked lovely in the dress she had on, but she looks even hotter without it!"

ZOE STOLLERY

FISHERMAN Alan Black has a stash of topless babes stored on his boat for his stints at sea, but Zoe Stollery is his favourite.

The 49-year-old regularly casts his net into the North Sea in the early hours of the morning and keeps himself entertained by ogling Sport babes.

Although, he wants a new photo of 28-year-old beauty Zoe, from Colchester, Essex, to make his collection complete.

He said: "Those early mornings are a killer but a new picture of Zoe would make them easier but also a lot harder…if you know what I mean!"

Haven't seen your favourite model for a while? Drop us a note and we'll put her in the paper! Email request@sundaysport.co.uk

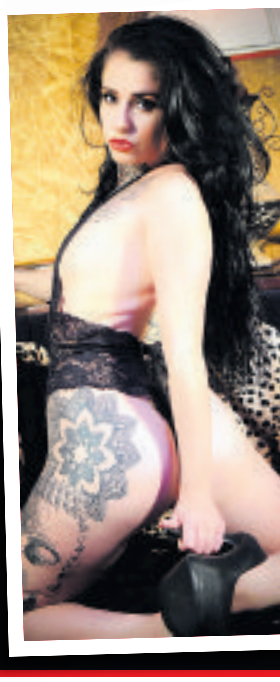
Doll



SPEARMINT RHINO BABE OF THE WEEK

INKED-up babe Dolly is looking for an equally decorated HUNK to get down and dirty with.

By JESS GALLEY
jess@sundaysport.co.uk

Dolly, 23, wants a man who can make her laugh – but if he dares to leave his socks on between the sheets, the minx says it's "game over".

Perky

However, the Bournemouth babe prefers to be the centre of attention in the bedroom but told us she's never tried having a threesome – yet.

In honour of being named our Spearmint Rhino Girl of the Week, Dolly stripped off and bared her perky all-natural 32Bs for this saucy shoot.

She said: "It's pretty obvious that I'm into tattoos, and I like my men to be inked too. They need to be funny as well, if they want to stand a chance of getting into my bed.

"When it comes to sex, for me foreplay is hugely important and I love being touched all over and teased to build up to the main event."

Spearmint Rhino has a number of gentleman's clubs around the world which boast the most beautiful dancers.

If you can't make it to a club, you can find Spearmint Rhino girls at boxing and Mixed Martial Arts (MMA) fights around the country, or at the British Superbike Rounds.

IT'S finally time to say goodbye to the creepy Crawleys of Downton Abbey and hello to the horny hotties of buxom Bottomley Manor!

For all you red-blooded fellas who love your porn but are bored to tears by dull Downton Abbey this is your lucky day.

Released last week, the UK's most highly anticipated adult movie is available exclusively through the Sport's adult partner Private Shops and, for a limited time they're offering readers another £5 OFF the already low, low price.

Down On Abby is a big budget, full length adult masterpiece starring porn legend Ben Dover and a cast of the hottest adult stars around. It will transport you to Bottomley Manor, home to the Lord Grabhem (played by Ben Dover), his wife (and 2014 AVN nominee) Jasmine Jae, and their two young promiscuous step-daughters, Abby and Fanny.

The Grabhems have invited the Stiffies to dinner and their staff, led by butler Smallc and footman Master Bates, hurriedly prepare to receive their honoured guests.

But during preparations some members of staff have their own ideas of how to make the night go with a bang! As dinner approaches it seems everyone's got more than fancy nosh on their minds. Mind you, there is plenty of noshing as well as lots of other filth that will even cause a crease in Carson's keks.

We see plenty of R18 DVDs at the Sport but this one is really something special and one you MUST not miss!

This future classic stars Ava Dalush as Missy, Cathy Heaven as Lucy, Emma Leigh as Betty, Jasmine Jae as Lady Wanda Grabhem, Jasmine James as Fanny Grabhem, Jess West as Lady Stiffie, Lexi Lowe as Abby Grabhem, Ben Dover as Lord Will Grabhem, Big Bad Dave as Smithers and Clarke Kent as Master Bates.

RISING STAR: David Wagner can lead Huddersfield into the Premier League

WAGNER POINTS WAY TO PREMIER

THE football season is fast coming to an end, but fans of Sheffield Wednesday and Huddersfield Town are praying this won't be their last game.

Both clubs have had a cracking season, but only one of them can make it to the play-off final at Wembley and have a shot at making it back to the big time.

The Terriers have a rich history, the football historians among you will know they were the first club to win three successive league titles (1926). A feat never bettered and only matched by three other clubs (Liverpool, Arsenal and Man United).

The club's been starved of success in recent years, but I can see them pulling off a shock and turning Wednesday over.

David Wagner's team lost three of their last four league games, but I'm convinced they had their heads turned by the this date with destiny.

Decent

Both teams ended the season on 81 points, the first leg was 0-0 and although they are away, they look incredible value to me at 11/4.

The pressure is well and truly on Wednesday and I can see them blowing their big chance. The emphasis is on Wednesday to attack in this battle of Yorkshire and therein lies Towns opportunity.

They can hit them on the counter attack. Anyone who watched the first-leg were left scratching their head wondering how Town did not end up with a decent advantage.

The fact is though they had the beating of Wednesday's defence almost at will.

The stats tell you Wednesday have not lost against their rivals since November 2013 (eight matches), but I'm advising that hoodoo is about to be broken. If you don't fancy the 11/4, look at the bright Nahki Wells to score and Huddersfield to win at a whopping 5/1.

SPURS CAN SEE OFF FOXES

Spurs management, players and fans will still be kicking themselves after they failed to keep the pressure on Chelsea.

That slip up against West Ham sealed their fate, but they bounced back impressively against United. The pressure is now off Pochettino and his men, the title race is over for another season, but I expect them to beat Leicester tomorrow.

The big surprise to me is we can get 7/8, it's a gilt edged opportunity to almost double our money. Spurs have had their best season in the league since 1963.

It's not doom and gloom, it's a time if you are a Spurs fan to get excited, in fact very excited.

The silverware for this outstanding team is coming, Pochettinto is building something very special. Next season they will play at Wembley, before moving to their brand new 62,000 stadium.

I don't see Kane and co taking their foot off the accelerator and I expect them to win this match quite convincingly. If you want something a little bigger grab the 13/8 for Kane to score and Spurs to win.

HORSE RACING

Today I fancy Brando to run a massive race at York 3.30. He really caught the eye winning at Newmarket in April and Ryan's charge is taken to improve again here.

If he does, it's quite simple he will take the beating. I'm expecting him to be around the 11/4 to 3/1 mark, it should be a bumper payday for us if he puts his best foot forward.

GREYHOUND RACING

One missed break and it can all be over with, so it takes some performance to put together a long winning sequence in this sport.

Someone forgot to tell Redbrick Brooke that because she's won her last eight races on the spin.

It is nothing short of remarkable and while tonight looks to be her toughest race to date, I'm all over her winning from trap-one tonight at 7.58 Doncaster.

She's got a wonderful draw and with her level of consistency at the boxes, I expect her to make every post a winning one.

Chasing a nine-timer, you could be forgiven for expecting her to be odds-on, that won't happen and we may even get 6/4 to 7/4.

The Star Sports English Derby entry slammed shut yesterday at 12.00, do not miss Friday's weekend sport, I will give you my idea of which dog will be collecting the £175,000 first-prize, plus those at bigger odds which could be the surprise package and win you a fortune.

THE WINNING POST

Out Do the business

THE York Dante Festival kicks off this afternoon and despite the feature race, the Musidora looking a relative weak affair, there is still plenty of competitive action.

By BEN MORGAN

The 2.55 six-furlong handicap sprint looks a belter of a race and David O'Meara's OUT DO (NAP) should show the benefit of his recent reappearance at Ripon.

Dropped

He was behind Muntadab that day who re-opposes here, but I fancy Out Do to gain revenge now that he has blown away the cobwebs.

He has won at York before which is a big bonus and the fact his mark has now dropped below 100 suggests he should be winning again soon.

Connections would have preferred a lower draw but Danny Tudhope is a wily old fox and will no doubt have him in the right place to pounce late.

York's opener also looks a hotly contested handicap where you can make a case for plenty, but I've plumped for MASTER CARPENTER who is also dropping to a dangerously low mark.

The last time he raced at York he won the John Smith's Cup off a mark of 104 and he races today off 95 which means even with some depreciation in ability taken into consideration, he looks well in.

I can see him running well at a price.

SUEDOIS can cap off a good day for the O'Meara team with victory in the Duke of York Clipper Logistics Stakes.

It looks a cracking race with Brando, occupying most of the market attention as he has the profile to suit the race.

Big hitters such as The Tin Man and Magical Memory are having their first runs of the year so may need this, hence why I'm edging with Suedois.

He ran some great races in defeat last year including a close second in this race 12 months ago, so he is long overdue a bit of luck and I think today can be his day.

If SENATOR is to live up to Richard Fahey's expectations then he should be winning a handicap off top weight.

Chance

Despite housing some talented young claimers to negate some of the burden, Fahey has plumped for Paul Hanagan to take the ride which must a tip in itself.

If you can forgive this Frankel colt for his last run, then he must have a great chance of winning this.

England start defence with the Italian job

RUGBY UNION

ENGLAND will start the defence of their Six Nations crown with a trip to Italy.

The Red Rose is in Rome on February 4 before starting their home campaign against Wales.

Then it's the Calcutta Cup match against Scotland at Murrayfield before facing France in Paris.

That leaves a final game — at home to Ireland — where Eddie Jones will be looking to avenge last season's shock defeat in Dublin that wrecked Grand Slam hopes.

ENGLAND COACH: Jones

Organisers have resisted calls to cut a fortnight from the seven-week tournament with the rest weekends staying in the calendar.

Wales start at home to Scotland on February 3, with Ireland travelling to France to kick off their campaign.

Salford fans scrum down to save name

RUGBY LEAGUE

SALFORD fans are fighting proposals to change the club's name to Manchester.

The Super League club is enjoying one of its most successful seasons in decades — but they struggle to get big crowds to the AJ Bell Stadium.

Owner Marwan Koukash has put forward Manchester Red Devils as a possible name change to boost support for the team.

But that has not gone down well with large sections of the 144-year-old club's support.

Some have formed a group called "Salford Forever, Manchester Never" as they try to keep the traditional name.

Local MP Rebecca Long-Bailey is among those trying to block any name change.

She said: "This isn't just about making sure that Salford remains the name of Salford Red Devils, it's a matter of civic pride.

"To not have the name Salford is a smear on this city."

Koukash has tasked former Bradford Bulls captain Robbie Hunter-Paul with coming up with ideas to boost the club.

As well as a possible name change, there are also proposals to take games around Manchester, with Old Trafford and the Etihad Stadiums mentioned as possible venues.

SALFORD CHIEF: Koukash

The club is in the middle of a probe into the crowd trouble that marred their Challenge Cup win over Hull KR.

There were reports of trouble among fans from both teams, which could be a hangover from a tense million pound game last October.

PREMIER LEAGUE PREVIEW:

FORWARD THINKING: Kane thinks Spurs can win the title

HARRY Kane says Spurs will keep their squad together for a big title charge next season.

By JOHN ANTHONY

Tottenham have had their best ever Premier League campaign and are guaranteed to finish second behind champions Chelsea.

That success has the vultures circling around the club — with everyone from the manager to Kane himself linked with moves to so-called bigger clubs.

Spurs also have the issue that their astronomical wage structure isn't quite as astronomical as some other teams.

Many pundits think that makes the Londoners vulnerable to attack from Inter Milans and Paris St Germains of this world.

But Kane is confident that the vast majority of the squad that finished second will kick off again in August.

He said: "I'd be very surprised if most of us aren't still here next season.

"There are not many better clubs to be at around the world.

"We have a very bright future, with a team and squad who are hungry to learn, win and get better.

"The manager is very good at keeping us focused on training and matches.

"We've just got to next season go out and try and win some trophies, and go into the new season as proper title contenders and players who can win trophies.

Title

"We have a special bond at Tottenham that you don't always get elsewhere.

"We have to hold on to that and use it as motivation, hopefully, to lift the title next year. That's got to be the next step, celebrations like we had for the final game at White Hart Lane, but this time with a title or a cup."

Kyle Walker looks as though he'll be on his way after falling out with boss Mauricio Pochettino.

He was rested for some key games as the gaffer likes to rotate his full-backs.

Manchester City are in the driving seat to land the England international.

Pochettino himself is being targeted by Inter Milan if they fail to prise Antonio Conte from Chelsea.

Kane expects Spurs squad to stay together under Poch

Spurs gaffer excited about leading the club into their new stadium.

After a season at Wembley, Tottenham will move into a near 62,000 seater a few yards up White Hart Lane.

Pochettino wants to be the man in charge when the move happens.

Expectation

He said: "I think we believe when the new stadium opens the doors it will help the club reach the last leve.

"That is our expectation and our idea.

"The facilities, the training ground and the new stadium will put the team in the last level of Europe."

Tottenham take on Leicester tonight with the Foxes also facing a challenge to keep hold of their key men.

Boss Craig Shakespeare doesn't know if he'll be in charge when next term kicks off — and it's hard to tell who will still be at the club.

Riyad Mahrez looks the most likely to flee the King Power after a disappointing season for the defending champions.

The Algeria international is hot property and Shakespeare admits it will be hard to keep him at the club. He said: "I think most of our players are under contract.

"I think there will always be speculation because they are good players.

"But until you get an offer, it is just speculation.

"I don't talk to Mahrez regularly about his future.

Wanted

"We don't need to pander to everybody's needs, but yes, they do need to be told they are wanted at the club and appreciated.

I think Riyad is one of many that if you asked him he will feel appreciated here and wanted."

Kiwi-born Te'o shocked by Lions call

RUGBY UNION

BEN TE'O admits he is stunned to be part of the British Lions squad to take on the All Blacks — because he's from New Zealand.

The England and Worcester centre was born in Auckland and broke into the international team only six months ago.

It's been a whirlwind since then and he'll be heading back to his homeland hoping to play a big part in a Lions victory for coach Warren Gatland.

He faces stiff competition for a place against the likes of Jonathan Davies — but is confident he can have an impact.

He said: "Pre-season, the Lions would not have been on the radar at all.

"I was looking to try and start well at a new club.

"Over time, when you get opportunities, you take them. I am trying to progress my career and keep evolving as a player.

"I want more minutes, I want to start, I am always working towards that. Fingers crossed, I might get my opportunity with the Lions and if I do, I have to seize it.

"I won't hide from what I am. Being a ball carrier is one of my strengths.

"You can't go away from what you are and what your strengths are.

"I was picked for a reason, and they felt I can bring something different, and that is what I will try to bring."

Most of the Lions party are still playing for their clubs, but Te'o is part of a small group who are already training for the tour. The 30-year-old thinks that will help him ease into the pressure of playing for the Lions.

He added: "I am comfortable coming in right now.

"It is nice for me to come in and meet the guys and get to know the environment.

"The guys away with the big games for their clubs, it is not doing them any harm not being here. We would all like to be playing in big games, so good luck to them.

"I would say the majority of the guys here will make up a large part of the first tour game.

"We should use that to our advantage, work on our combinations and get a feel for each other."

Te'o is expecting plenty of stick from All Blacks fans for being a "traitor".

He added: "I moved from New Zealand at a young age and went to Australia and that stuff is irrelevant to me."

BRIDGE LEGEND SET FOR NEW CHAPTER

I'M READY TO BE A BOSS

Terry has eye on his future

JOHN TERRY says this season has been good preparation for becoming a manager.

The Chelsea skipper has been a bit-part player as the Blues won their Premier League title back. But, far from moaning about it, he has been keeping a close eye on how boss Antonio Conte runs the club.

Terry believes that will stand him in good stead for taking over a team himself — and he understands that his time is pretty much up as a player.

The 36-year-old starred in the 4-3 win over Watford, opening the scoring for good measure. He has one more chance to play at Stamford Bridge on Sunday — then he has his mind on management.

By MARK NAYLOR

Terry said: "This season has been a new experience but one I have kind of enjoyed.

"When I say that to people, they don't really understand it. But I am Chelsea through and through and sitting there watching my club go on to do what they have done this year has been fantastic.

"I was sitting there wishing that the boys kept winning and performing well because for me I have had my time.

"It has been a good lesson for me because all of my career I have been in the starting line-up and never really seen the other side of being on the bench.

"But it has certainly served me well for the future when hopefully one day I become a manager."

MENTOR: Conte

Although there are offers on the table to keep playing, Terry has been dropping hints that he'll hang up his boots next week.

And he wants to make the most of the lessons he has learned under Conte.

He said: "The manager has been a great example for me to add to my coaching in the future.

Delighted

"Leaving me out the side was probably a tough decision for the manager but he was very honest straight away.

"As a player that is all you want, honesty. You can work as hard as you want, but if the team are playing well and winning you are not going to get back in.

"And the manager made that clear to me."

Terry gets to lift one more trophy when Chelsea get the Premier League prize presented after their clash with Sunderland.

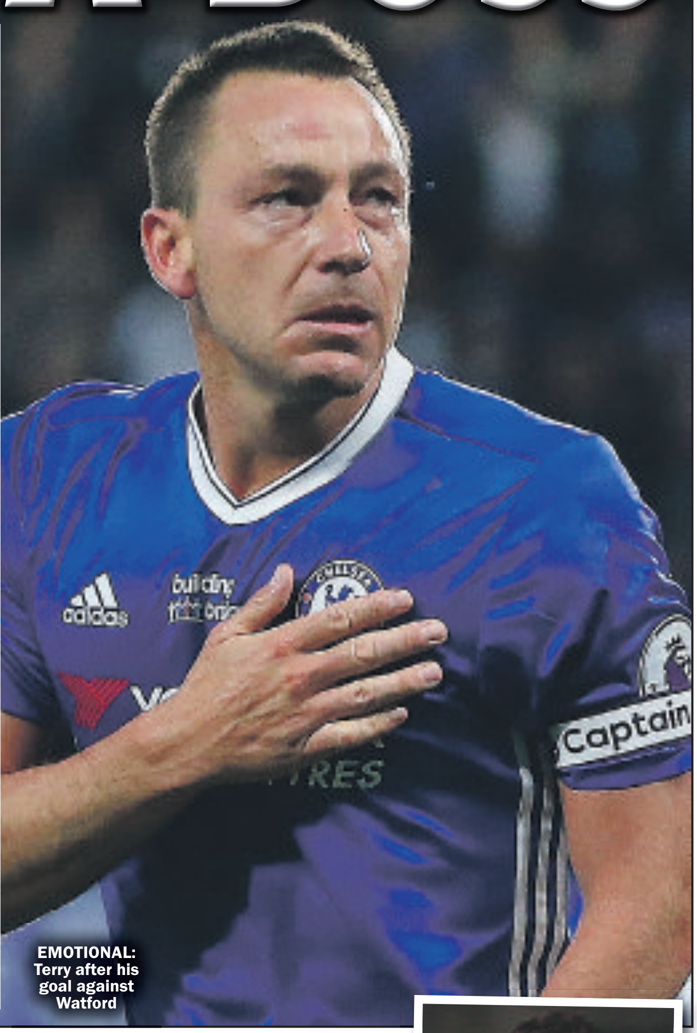
He admitted: "It is going to be a really sad and emotional day.

"But I am delighted with the experiences and the opportunities I have had.

"I was delighted first and foremost to start the game and then to score and win.

"It is important as a group we keep the momentum going into the FA Cup final so we must come back here and win our last home game.

"The cup final will be brilliant but only if we go and win it."



EMOTIONAL: Terry after his goal against Watford

STAYING: Atsu

Top flight Toon go barmy for £6m Atsu

NEWCASTLE have made their first big transfer move of the summer by making Christian Atsu's loan move from Chelsea permanent.

The 25-year-old Ghana midfielder has been a key part of the Toon's promotion from the Championship.

He made 34 appearances last term and scored five times.

Boss Rafa Benitez is happy to pay around £6m to make him a permanent part of his squad.

Atsu is happy to leave Chelsea, where there is little prospect of him breaking into the first team under Antonio Conte.

And he has enjoyed his time in the north-east more than his other loan spells.

Atsu said: "I am enjoying my time here much more than at any of my previous clubs.

"I am getting more playing time, and that makes everything much easier for me.

"I couldn't play many games at Everton, and then I went to Bournemouth and didn't play one single Premier League game.

Signings

"It was appalling. A very difficult time for me."

It will be the first of many moves to and from St James's Park as Mike Ashley has made £100m available for new signings.

But plenty of the current squad are determined to keep their place in the Premier League.

Midfielder Isaac Hayden said: "The Premier League is the pinnacle, that's where everybody wants to play.

"All the best players in the world want to come to the Premier League and test themselves against the best players.

"I know I have got improving to do in certain aspects of my game.

"I have spoken to the manager about that but he's got full confidence in me.

"I have got full confidence in myself that come next season, especially in pre-season, my body will be 100% fit, ready and raring to go and improve.

"I have no doubt that I'll be able to hack it in the Premier League.

"I can't speak for everybody else, but I'll have two weeks off and I'll be dying to come back."

O'NEILL RILES RON . . . AGAIN

By PAUL THOMAS

EVERTON are on a collision course with Ireland — again — over James McCarthy.

Boss Martin O'Neill has called the Toffees midfielder up for next month's World Cup qualifier against Austria.

But Everton gaffer Ronald Koeman insists that McCarthy is not fit and has been missing games for the Blues.

He has not turned out for the Goodison boys since March 5 and was injured in the warm up for Ireland against Wales shortly after that.

That brought a furious reaction from Koeman who accused O'Neill of putting Ireland before Everton and the player's needs — and not for the first time.

In return, the Dutchman was called "the master tactician of the blame game".

O'Neill wants McCarthy in his squad for the key qualifier and the earlier friendlies against Mexico and Uruguay.

He said: "I think this week will decide a lot. We still have time.

"If he comes through this week unscathed then it might be something we would look at.

"I've put him in provisionally because, according to Everton, he is starting full-time training this week.

"He wanted to play the last time and he declared himself fit and it was really unfortunate that he went out and felt it in the warm-up.

"It's a different thing between doing some training a couple of days beforehand and thinking that you are okay, and then the intensity of the game, or the build-up to the game as it was, in injuring himself.

"The truth is that the one thing that we have come to accept is that there is no point in bringing somebody who is just half fit. That's really it.

"If he decides at the end of this week 'listen, I am absolutely flying, I don't feel a thing', that's a consideration.

"If he has done four or five days consecutively and he feels nothing and he feels that he is actually doing well, then I have a decision to make.

"But if he is actually thinking 'I don't feel great about this' then, I feel, you know what just leave it for the summer."

Everton have also lost Seamus Coleman thanks to a terrible broken leg while playing for Ireland.

He will be part of the party for the games — but is still a long way off returning to match action.

WITH HIS SPORTING ODDS AND ENDS

Go for goals on the south coast

GOAL THREAT: Gabbiadini

Saints can take point off Jose

YOU have to go back to August 2003 for the last time Southampton beat Man United at home in the Premier League.

I'm not convinced we will be privy to another five-goal thriller this evening, as was the case in a cracking League Cup Final between the clubs back in February.

Saints haven't scored in their last 275 minutes in front of their home supporters but I think they can buck that trend at St Mary's in a game that has draw written all over it.

Draw

United have lost their last two in the Premier League, albeit at Arsenal and Spurs, and they need to win to avoid the season being their lowest ever tally of Premier League wins in a season.

They have 17 at present and won 19 in both the 2013-14 and 2015-16 campaigns.

Saints are marginal favourites at 7/4 with BetVictor with United 9/5 and the draw at 23/10 – a goalscoring draw is the recommendation at 7/2.

Leicester City have won all five home top-flight games under Craig Shakespeare and in many ways, it is a pity that there is not more on the visit of Spurs to the King Power Stadium tomorrow.

Spurs have already finished runner up to worthy champions Chelsea and do note that if Spurs (80 points) win tomorrow night or at Hull on Sunday they will have gained more points than last season's champions (Leicester of course) who won the title with 81 points.

Harry Kane has scored 22 times in his last 25 PL games for Spurs and deserves to retain his Golden Boot irrespective of the number of penalties he has scored in that period.

Kane is 25/1 to score the only goal of the game but I think the Foxes will score and the recommendation is the England striker to score first in a 3-1 away win.

Kane remains 7/2 with BetVictor to land back-to-back Golden Boot's but he trails Everton's Romelu Lukaku 24-22.

The Blues have a trip to the Emirates to come and we haven't won at Arsenal since 1996 so Rom is unlikely to have many chances to add to his tally whilst Spurs have Hull at the KCOM after tonight's trip to the East Midlands.

Major

The Foxes are 10/3 to make it six out of six for the Bard of the King Power with Spurs a shade of odds on at 20/23 and the draw at 14/5. Kane is 10/11 to find the back of Kasper Schmeichel's net at some stage during the 90 minutes.

The Final of the Premier League of darts is tomorrow night's other sporting highlight with Michael van Gerwen 8/15 to retain his crown in the O2 Arena.

Mighty Mike plays Gary Anderson in the semi-final with the winner meeting the winner of the Peter Wright v Phil Taylor semi.

Is there one last hurrah in the Power?

The Stoke legend is 7/4 to beat Wright (2/5) and that might be a shade too big.

Many think that if Phil is to win another Major this year it will be in his beloved Blackpool at the BetVictor World Matchplay but I do think he will give Wright a real game this evening.

Taylor was at home last weekend preparing for the event whilst Wright travelled to Gibraltar to play a European Tour Event losing to eventual winner Michael Smith in the semi-final. I hope The Power at 7/4 can cause a shock.

KEY MAN: Klopp embraces Coutinho

Phil's a Cout above says Kop hitman

PHILLIPE Coutinho can get Liverpool over the line and back into the Champions League.

That's the verdict of fellow Kopite Divock Origi as the Reds need a win against Middlesbrough on Sunday to seal a top-four spot.

Looking at the league table, you would wonder why Liverpool are jittery about a home game against a team that's already been relegated from the top flight.

But it's against the teams at the bottom that Jurgen Klopp's side have struggled this term.

They have lost against Burnley, Swansea, Crystal Palace, Bournemouth and Hull and Leicester City.

Put it another way if they had won those games the title would be coming back to Anfield this season.

Boro are likely to park the bus to avoid going down on a big defeat and breaking those teams down has been a major problem for Liverpool.

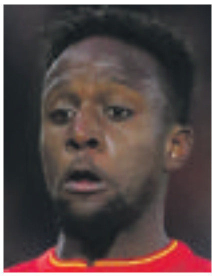
Origi is sure Coutinho's class — that brought him two goals against West Ham at the weekend — can see them through.

The Belgian said: "He has moments of magic.

"He has a lot of talent and he's a top player and an experienced player and he's still only 24, so I think that's very special.

"He helps us a lot, is there in the big moments and for me he is a joy to play with."

Origi faces a battle to keep his starting place against Boro thanks to Daniel Sturridge's return to fitness.



BIG FAN: Origi

HE'S BACK: Sturridge

Roberto Firmino should be fit by the weekend and the Belgian looks the most likely to drop out of the forward line.

Origi welcomes the return of the England ace, adding: "Daniel as well is a big talent and of course he has experience. He showed his qualities again for Liverpool and he's very important."

And he says there will be nothing left on the pitch on Sunday.

Origi added: "It will be like a final so we will give it everything.

"We just have to continue playing our game and I think if we show the same attitude as at West Ham we have a big chance of doing this.

"We have worked hard all season to reach a goal and that was to finish the highest possible.

"We will be at home which is very good and I think we can go with a lot of belief and a lot of confidence."

SHOT AT BIG TIME: Elias Kachunga

Elias keen to Kach place at Prem party

Sheffield Wednesday v Huddersfield Town

Wednesday, 7.45pm, live on Sky Sports 3

ELIAS Kachunga believes playing in the Premier League for Huddersfield would be the greatest achievement of his career.

That's despite the Terriers' striker having sampled life in the Bundesliga in Germany.

Huddersfield and Sheffield Wednesday are tied at 0-0 after the first leg of their Championship play-off so there's all to play for.

The Terriers have not been in the top flight since 1972 so there's plenty riding on tonight's match.

And the 25-year-old is desperate to play his part for David Wagner's men.

He said: "I think it's the biggest game in my career.

"I also went with Paderborn to the first league in Germany but the Premier League is a little bit different, maybe a little bit bigger than the Bundesliga.

Unsung

"For me it was always a dream to one time play in the Premier League.

"When you have the chance to go up with Huddersfield then it makes it bigger."

When Paderborn made it to top league in Germany, they were an unsung team a lot like Huddersfield.

And Kachunga can see a lot of similarities with the Terriers against a much bigger club in Wednesday.

GAFFER: Wagner

RETURNING: Ward

He added: "They had never played in the top division and Huddersfield have had a long wait.

"It's similar because it's two small clubs, no-one thinks that these clubs will play in the first division.

"I have seen with a small club you can also beat the big clubs and go to the first division.

"We have good confidence in our team. In Paderborn it was the same. I see everyone work so hard for each other. Getting promoted is an unbelievable feeling."

Huddersfield have been boosted by the return of first-choice keeper Danny Ward for the second leg after serving a ban.

CRAZY DAYS: Mourinho has been a busy man

JOSE Mourinho believes Man United's fixture pile-up could wreck their chance of winning the Europa League.

By JOHN ANTHONY

Taking on Ajax in Stockholm next week is the only match that matters for the Reds now.

That's because the winners will get a place in the Champions League group stage.

With United sitting in sixth place, it's the only way they can qualify for Europe's top competition next season.

The Reds' defeat at Spurs on Sunday was their 13th game since the start of April.

Given there is so much at stake against Ajax Mourinho will leave out key players against Southampton tonight — and again in the final league match of the season against Crystal Palace on Sunday.

The United boss is angry at being forced to play two games in the run up to the Europa League final.

He ranted: "The accumulation of the games, I never had that. You know that in all of my career I was never knocked out of European competitions in the group phases and in the last 16 I was out only once.

"So I reached the semi-finals 10 times, I go always until the end of the competitions.

Crazy

"In the League Cup I normally go far. In the domestic competitions cups, I won in Spain, in Italy, in Portugal so I normally have a lot of matches. But like this I never have, I never have.

"This situation of you play a final and the game that you should play that day is going to be postponed until the last week, for the last week! This is crazy.

"And I repeat the same — thank you Michael Oliver because we were out in the FA Cup, because if we go to the FA Cup semi-finals it would be a total disaster. I don't know when we would be playing that game.

"I never, ever have had a situation like this and on top of that the accumulation of big injuries, not small, not the injuries that you say 'okay, hamstring, two weeks'.

"No. It's surgery, boom, boom. It's surgery — one knee, another knee. Another foot. Just big surgeries.

"So fewer players and fewer players and fewer players. It's very difficult, really very difficult. But we are there and we go to the final."

Effort

Mourinho admits it has been a big challenge to keep his players fit and something like fresh for the key match at the end of the season.

The United boss added: "Sometimes you need a day off and they don't know what a day off is. So this is a period in one week when I have to give one day off and now I give a day off to Antonio Valencia. It has to be.

"And against Crystal Palace two or three more and against Southampton two or three more and that's to try to arrive in the final in the best possible conditions."

Mourinho says it's up to the players to push on through the tiredness and bring the only trophy United have never won to the club.

For that reason, there is not much effort being put into the games against Southampton and Palace.

The Portugeezer said: "What I want for the players is a good attitude, is a positive attitude, a positive approach, is team spirit, is understanding that some guys they have to sacrifice themselves for the good of others.

Defeat

"Daley Blind played against Spurs after 90 minutes on Thursday. Of course, Marouane Fellaini has to play the next one.

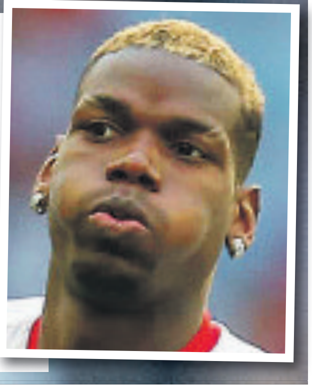
"Team spirit, empathy and the fantastic attitude that everybody has is not one more victory, one more point, one more defeat that is going to change something.

"A final is a final and we have to go to the final with everything like Ajax does because they have finished the season and they do not have any more football to play until the final."

Paul Pogba missed the Spurs game after the death of his father and he is likely to be given more time off this week.

Mourinho added: "I don't think that Paul has the conditions to play.

"We have left him completely free to be back when he thinks he's ready."



CROCKED: Rose

Rose goes under the knife on bad knee

DANNY Rose has had an operation on his knee in a bid to be fit in time for next season.

The Spurs full-back has been missing since damaging his ligaments against Sunderland at the end of January.

It was hoped that he'd be back within weeks but the problem is worse than first thought.

He came back into first-team training last week but the knee clearly wasn't right.

It means Rose will be missing from England's World Cup qualifier against Scotland on June 10 and the friendly against France later in the same week.

A Spurs statement said: "We can confirm that Danny Rose has undergone exploratory surgery on his left knee.

"He recently returned to training, however the problem has not resolved fully therefore a decision has been made to proceed to surgery.

"He will now return to action next season."

Palace on pole in Sak race

CRYSTAL Palace chairman Steve Parish wants to sign Mamadou Sakho from Liverpool — if the price is right.

The Reds have slapped a £30million price tag on the centre-back who made a big impact on loan for the Eagles this season.

The 27-year-old would be happy to make the move permanent — but the fee might have to come down.

Parish said: "The money needs to work for us and for Liverpool.

"I am sure there will be a negotiation.

"If we can make it work of course we would like to, I am not going to try and be coy about it.

"He is a very good player. He likes being with us and we like him. Let's hope we can do it.

"You cannot con anyone that he did not make a massive difference.

"He is a big character and has the respect of all of the players.

"It is one we would like to do."

Lyon have admitted defeat in their bid to keep the striker who has been top of Arsene Wenger's shopping list for a year.

The Gunners had a £30m bid turned down last summer but they have been given the green light to come in again by the French club.

By JOHN ANTHONY

Their president Jean-Michel Aulas said: "If a club of his heart is able to match our demands then things will go well.

"If any players feel that this club is not big enough for them, we will look for others who are just as strong but have the right mentality as well."

Lacazette is hot property thanks to his impressive goals record.

The 25-year-old has scored 26 goals in 29 league outings this term.

With Alexis Sanchez almost certain to leave, Wenger wants him to replace the Chile ace.
